March 26, 2009

Dear Governor Nixon,

This past Monday, March 23, I faxed you a Sunshine Request due to my concern about the MIAC report and your meetings in your office. My request was faxed to you around 10 am that morning.

By about 4 pm that same day, at least two associates or friends of mine were being questioned by law enforcement officers here in the St. Louis area. These law enforcement officers were asking these people about me, my support for Presidential candidate Ron Paul and others aspects of my political positions and beliefs including my opposition to the expansion of the Federal Reserve.

Governor Nixon, I am deeply concerned that I am being targeted by law enforcement within hours of my Sunshine Request and critical comments about your MIAC report. I believe that you could have violated state and federal law in the process of all of this.

Not content with those visits on Monday, it is now known to me that St. Louis law enforcement officers have visited at least seven (7) of my friends or associates over the past few days.

Governor Nixon, please leave me and my friends alone. You have no right to target me or people like me - pro-life, anti-illegal immigration, critical of the Federal Reserve or federal powers - simply because you do not agree with us.

I am copying this letter to the local press to try to stop you and your efforts to treat people wrong through abuse of your power. I have also gotten myself a lawyer and am looking into options for protecting myself and/or suing you. And I have spoken to my elected official.

Sincerely,

Josh Carter
